INTERNAL REGULATIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF EDUCATING CITIES

Chapter I

ON THE ASSOCIATION in GENERAL

Article 1: The International Association of Educating Cities (hereon, IAEC) was legally constituted, and its Statutes were legally recorded in the General Registry of Associations of the Ministry of Justice and the Interior under number 135237, on 26/9/94, as a non-profit, permanent organization seeking collaboration amongst city governments interested in compliance with the principles set down in the Charter of Educating Cities.

These Internal Regulations will be subsidiary to the obligatory provisions of the Associations Act, which are concordant with the Statutes of the Association.

Article 2: The Association seeks to achieve the purposes set down in Article 4 of the Statutes and, all the activities it undertakes, and those of its management bodies and the members of the same, shall be addressed to achieving said purposes.

Article 3: The IAEC shall have its own logo which will figure on the documentation of the entity. Every member city shall be entitled to make use of the same, although it must request permission to do so from the Secretariat of the IAEC, who, upon authorising its use shall provide the city with the regulations governing the use of said logo.

All notices and/or notifications set down in the Statutes of the IAEC and in these Regulations shall be considered validly made providing that they are made using any conduits, by ordinary post, electronic mail, or a posting on the website of the Association (www.edcities.org)

Chapter II

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

Article 4: Any city in the world that wishes to join the IAEC can do so through their local government. To join the Association the Mayor of a candidate city must submit a written request accompanied by the resolution of the City Council of the city accepting the principles of the Charter of Educating Cities and authorising the Mayor to apply for membership.

This request must include the name of the Mayor, who will act in the IAEC as the permanent representative of the city; the name of a representative to act in a technical, or civil service capacity of the City Council or the like, and, as the case may be, a representative of a political nature, i.e., someone who bears political responsibilities in the municipality. Any future changes of either of these two representatives must be reported by the Mayor by reliable means.

All the cities that are granted membership will receive a copy of the Statutes and the Internal Regulations from the Secretariat of the IAEC.

Article 5: After the membership application has been received, the Executive Committee will decide on whether to admit the candidate. This decision, however, will not be final until it is validated at the next General Assembly.

Article 6: If admission is rejected by the Executive Committee, the applicant city must be notified and provided with a literal copy of the aforementioned rejection.

RECORDING IN THE REGISTER

Article 7: Once the membership of a new member has been validated by the respective General Assembly, the Secretariat shall record the new member in the Members Register.

Article 8: All new member cities must have full knowledge of the Statutes of the Association and of these Internal Regulations, and must be in possession of a copy of the same, to which they shall have access, in any case, through the website of the IAEC "www.edcities.org", and, accordingly, the new member cannot allege a lack of knowledge of said documents.
