Study visits

Basic information on formal education in Finland:

Formal education in Finland is organised in daycare programmes (for babies and toddlers), a one-year "pre-school" (for six-year-olds); a nine-year compulsory basic comprehensive school (for children aged 7-16), post-compulsory secondary education (academic track or vocational track), higher education (university) and adult (lifelong) education.

■ BASIC EDUCATION SCHOOLS (TBC)

Basic education in Tampere is provided mainly in city-maintained comprehensive schools.

The City of Tampere also provides instruction for pupils who need special support and for multilingual pupils. It is possible to complete comprehensive school education in other languages than Finnish: basic education is provided in Swedish, English, French and German. It is also possible to complete grades 1-6 following a Montessori pedagogical educational programme. Pupils who are not members of the Evangelical-Lutheran Church are instructed in ethics instead of religion.

Starting from grade 3, it is possible to study music or the visual arts with a special emphasis in the curriculum. Pupils for these music and visual arts classes are selected by using aptitude tests.

Many of the comprehensive schools offer various focus areas in their curricula in grades 7-9. Optional focus areas are offered, among others, in physical education, communication, information and communication technology (ICT), mathematics, creative expression, and crafts.
